DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. It is not known which location is "a stopping place".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 10-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bloom 6,694,217 in view of Rivalto 6,690,997.

Bloom '217 discloses a moving electronic parcel compartment system. The system comprises barcode reader for reading barcodes on postal parcels. However, Bloom is silent as to the specifics of automatically placing the parcels into respective compartments via conveying means.

Rivalto '997 discloses a moving electronic parcel compartment system for automatically placing postal parcels in respective movable compartments. Rivalto '997 teaches that conveying means is used to automatically place parcels in movable parcel compartments.

It would have been obvious for a person with ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to have provided to Bloom '217 system with conveying means, as taught by Rivalto '997, because it facilitates placement of parcels in respective movable compartments automatically.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 1-9 are allowable over the prior art of record.
